Special Dispatch to The Star.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, Charlottesville, Va., March 14.—A regular London fog prevailed this morning and, although not a drop of rain has fallen, the weather is quite raw and disagreeable and unfit for outdoor work of any description. Manager Stahl took the bull by the horns this morning and mapped out a hard day's work, as all the players were anxious to get at something. By 10 o'clock the entire squad, save Hardy, who has a slight cold, had reported at the University gymnasium. Suits were donned and all got busy on the main floor of the gym.

Each of the two teams warmed up for fifteen minutes, and the practice was very beneficial. On the other side of the floor the infield and outfield men were actively engaged in tossing the ball to each other.

A change in program was instituted at 10 o'clock, when preparations were begun for a basketball contest. The teams consisted of the Nationals and the University of Virginia. The Nationals, managed by Stahl, consisted of Stahl, Wolfe, McCoy, Hughes and Nill. Falkenberg's bunch included Schaffly, Stahl, Mannel, Anderson and Demontreville. The game was a close one, the Nationals scoring two points in the first half, which was hotly contested throughout. The men could be heard yelling at each other for nearly a square. The Nationals' final score was 18 to 16, each team throwing two goals. Hughes insisted on quitting with honors even, but finally yielded to Stahl's persuasive powers and decided to play the rest of the game. After five minutes of rough-and-tumble work McCoy finally clinched the contest by a beautiful throw, which landed squarely in the bag, making the final score 18 to 16.

Anderson, who had been out of the game as a result of a cold, played a very rough game and was frequently cautioned by the referee, a university student, who made the fellows observe the rules of the game as best he could. Hickman's playing was very brilliant at times, and it was partly due to his excellent passing and blocking that McCoy was able to land a score of goals made by his side. Nill rendered valuable aid.

Falkenberg's team Heinlein carried off the honors. He had evidently played the game before, and is far from being a novice. He threw two very difficult goals.

Cross and Patten, who did not participate in the sport, were put on the indoor running track, and each covered more than a mile in very poor shape when they were called in time to do some busy "footing."

Trainer Quirk is stuck on basketball. He thinks it is the best sport in the world for the wind, and this opinion is heartily concurred in by Manager Stahl and the rest of the players. At the conclusion of this morning's contest the men looked as if they had been under a shower bath. A good rainy day would be just what they needed.

The men will be put through the same kind of work this afternoon. The field is too soft, and it is much too damp to attempt any outdoor work.

Manager Stahl received a letter from Kline, who says that his wife's condition is such that she is unable to leave her bedside for several days yet. No word has been received from Jones, and therefore he is expected in any moment from the west.

Arrangements are about completed by Manager Stahl for an exhibition game at Troy, N. Y., early in May. The ball park in that city will be opened on the 6th, and the local club is anxious to have the rejuvenated Nationals as a drawing card.

The Virginia base ball season is scheduled to open tomorrow afternoon.

Clear Weather Coming.

The Nationals are keeping a stiff upper lip and are hoping for better days. The weather people have a decidedly aggravating habit about this time of year of suddenly yanking the bung out of a cask labeled "cold storage and snow." Then the men retire to oblivion and nady rumormongers over the distressing inequities of life, while with a gleefully malicious grin the coal man gets busy and proceeds to deliver his load of coal to the man who is not yet in the class of "also rans."

The indications this morning are that the marble heart of the weather people has had an indentation put in it and is tomorrow at least will be ideal for ball playing.

The Washington bunch is gradually growing, and if the absentees continue to come back as they did yesterday the roster will soon be complete. Anderson came in with the storm yesterday afternoon, via Washington, looking sick and span. He appears in fine spirits and apparently weighs about 135.

All the old men are jolly Bill Wolfe for being so fat. The Allenford kid now has the reputation of being the "fat" man in the life," said Wolfe to a Star correspondent last night, seated in the lobby of the Clermont. "Never before in my life have I reported so much confidence in the beginning of the season. I used to be subject to rheumatism in the spring, but this year I have not had a single touch of it, and I think it is because I am getting to be a pretty good season. The time was when I could not work the rheumatism out of my system until the weather was in the spring. Now I am all the time in the spring. Wolfe has great confidence in the Nationals, and says that if the weather is anything like as good as last spring the men will start off the season in good shape.

Burlesque Basket Ball.

Rare sport was furnished a crowd of students at the Fayerweather gymnasium at the university yesterday afternoon. Tired of lounging around the hotel and watching the rain fall, the entire squad started out for a stroll. En route a bunch of fellows arranged between Schaffly and Falkenberg. The men donned the gloves, but were so exceedingly cautious that the match soon became very tame and the bout was called off by the referee. The men who took part in the fun began. Sides were chosen for a basketball contest, and in a fifty the ball was tossed into the air. The floor ball contest, which was a very rough game, was won by the Nationals. The players could not forbear running with the leather, and had there been a ladder near the goals they would have climbed up and dropped the ball in instead of tossing it. It proved equal to a minstrel show for the college boys. The teams lined up as follows:

Stahl's quint—Stahl, Quirk, Hickman, Nill and Patten. Substitutes—McCoy, Sudhoff and Anderson.

Falkenberg's team—Falkenberg, Heinlein, Schaffly, Mannel and Demontreville. Substitutes—Stanley and Smith.

The same five expect to line up for a second contest this afternoon. The losers to treat to a supper. An effort will be made to draft Hughes. It is safe to bet that he will not be on Stahl's team. "The manager's Hughes last night, and I believe in sticking by the rules of the game."

Sudhoff expressed the opinion last night that the Nationals would have a hitting team this season. The members of the club are certainly a nice bunch of fellows, he said, and it will be a pleasure to work with them. Speaking of himself, he stated that he had had only one warning up to this far, but was of the opinion that his arm was in good shape. He is anxious to get on the field and get down to work.

COLTS BEATEN BY NEW YORK REGULARS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 14.—In spite of the fact that "Happy Jack" Chesbro and Manager Clark Griffith worked for the youngsters yesterday afternoon the regulars won easily, the score being 5 to 1. Had Chesbro not been dreaming when Klenfuss attempted to catch Krieger forty miles from Broadway off the initial bag, the "Colts" would have been shut out. As it was Chesbro was hammered from the box, and Griffith was touched up lively. Leroy succeeded them and worked finely, not a hit being made off him. Hogg, pitching for the regulars, was in splendid form.

This afternoon the game with Birmingham occurred. Orth, the smiling favorite, and Chesbro will pitch against Clark and Wilhelm, the post and hope of the Birmingham camp. The game promises to be a red-hot one, the southern stars declaring that Chesbro will have no terrors for them. Orth has placed a wager that he will escape unscathed, while Moleworth, the clutch-hitting center fielder of the local camp, who led the Southern League in batting last season with the bat, avers that he will make an average of .300 against the New Yorker.

NEW ORLEANS RACES.

Macy, Jr., Made Show of His Field at Fair Grounds.

Macy, Jr., a derby candidate, who has frequently been among the also rans of late, showed something of his quality at the Fair Grounds, New Orleans, yesterday, when he galloped home in the fourth race two lengths in front of a better field than he has yet met. James Redick, who was caught for fouling in the fourth race and St. Valentine, who was caught for fouling in the fifth race, were the only winners of the day. Garish at the false price of 3 to 1 made a show of his company in the third race.
